Glenbard students heading to state music festival

Congratulations to the following Glenbard Township High School District 87 students who were selected by rigorous audition to this year's Illinois Music Educators Association All-State Festival.

The festival theme is "Music: At the Core of Education" with a focus, not only on the design and establishment of a strong, sequential, standards based music curriculum but also on advocating for the value of such a program in the complete education of every student in all schools. The All-State Festival will be held Jan. 25 to 28 in Peoria.

All-State students from Glenbard East High School include: Eric Haimann, All-State choir; Mark Iannelli, honor choir; Deb Jedlicka, honor choir; Matthew Law, jazz band; David Luedtke, band; Darren Miller, honor choir; Mike Mkrtshjan, All-State choir; Justin Quam, All-State choir; Liz Stachelski, band; and Sharon Walker, band.

Glenbard North High School student Lars Heemskerk placed into the orchestra.

South selectees include Alex Schmidt, All-State choir; Tim Honig, All-State choir; Ross Maki, orchestra; Zachary May, orchestra; Rachel Wittrig, orchestra; and Shan Kazmi, future music educator.

Glenbard West All-State students include Howard Chen, band; Betsy Welander, orchestra; and Josh Adams, honors choir.
